

Federal Prisoner Statistics Collected under the First Step Act, 2021

The First Step Act of 2018 (FSA) requires the Bureau of Justice Statistics (BJS), through its National Prisoner Statistics program, to collect data from the Federal Bureau of Prisons (BOP) on a number of topics and to report these data annually.¹ BJS is required to report on selected characteristics of persons in prison, including marital, veteran, citizenship, and English-speaking status; education levels; medical conditions; and participation in treatment programs. Also, BJS is required to report facility-level statistics, such as the number of assaults on staff by prisoners, prisoners' violations of rules that resulted in time credit reductions, and selected facility characteristics related to accreditation, on-site health care, remote learning, video conferencing, and costs of prisoners' phone calls.

The statistics in this report are for calendar year 2020, which represented the second full year of reporting under the FSA, and were collected in 2021. Data for 2021 will be available from the BOP in 2022. Unless otherwise noted, all counts in this report include persons held in federal correctional facilities operated either by the BOP (122 institutional facilities) or by private companies contracted by the BOP (6 institutional facilities).

Key findings

- The federal prison population decreased 13%, from 174,391 at yearend 2019 to 151,283 at yearend 2020 (table 1).
- While the prison population decreased in 2020, the number of persons in segregated housing (10,236) varied slightly from 2019 (10,649).

- The portion of persons held in federal prison who were not United States citizens declined from 18% in 2019 to 16% in 2020.
- In 2020, a total of 91 pregnant females were held in BOP-operated prison facilities, which was half the number held in 2019 (180) (table 2).
- Fifty pregnancies resulted in live births while the mothers were incarcerated in BOP facilities, 39 pregnant females were released from federal prison before giving birth, and there was 1 stillbirth and 1 maternal death.
- In 2020, a total of 14,791 persons held in federal prison participated in a nonresidential drug abuse program, 10,868 in a residential drug abuse program, and 1,268 in a treatment challenge program for a substance use disorder.
- In 2020, a total of 418 federal prisoners received medication-assisted treatment (approved by the U.S. Food and Drug Administration) to treat a substance use disorder.
- All 122 BOP-operated facilities had video-conferencing capabilities for persons in federal prison to participate in judicial hearings, foreign embassy consultations, reentry-related communications from probation offices, preliminary reentry preparation, disciplinary hearings, and the Institutional Hearing Program (table 3).
- In 2020, persons in federal prison committed a total of 71,441 prohibited acts in 2020, of which 17,178 (24%) were determined to be of greatest severity (table 4).²

²For details on how the BOP categorizes prohibited acts as greatest, high, moderate, or low severity level, see https://www.bop.gov/policy/progstat/5270_009.pdf.

- Forty-four percent of prohibited acts in 2020 took place in medium security BOP facilities (31,100), compared to 24% in high security (17,400), 17% in low security (12,100), 13% in administrative security (9,500), and 2% in minimum security (1,400) prisons.
- A total of 45,838 persons held in federal prison were responsible for the 71,441 prohibited acts in 2020 (table 5).
- High security prison Thomson Administrative U.S. Penitentiary in Illinois observed 1,779 prohibited acts in 2020—the most of any BOP facility—with 76% (1,359) of the acts determined to be of greatest severity (table 6).
- In 2020, prisoners physically assaulted BOP staff 1,321 times, of which 14 resulted in serious injuries (table 7).
- Prisoners committed eight cases of sexual assault against staff in 2020, none of which were prosecuted.
- At yearend 2020, a total of 8,199 persons were registered to volunteer in publicly operated federal correctional facilities, of whom 6,134 were authorized to perform a service for 5 days or more per year and 2,065 for 4 days or less (table 8).
- Of the 3,702 partnerships that federal prisons had with external groups to provide recidivism reduction programming, more than half (2,102) were with faith-based organizations (table 9).
- In 2020, there were 138,765 federal prisoners assessed with the BOP's newly developed recidivism risk tool, named the Prisoner Assessment Tool Targeting Estimated Risk and Needs (PATTERN) (table 10).
- Of those persons in federal prison assessed with PATTERN as of December 31 2020, 37% were considered to be at high risk for recidivism, 18% medium risk, 29% low risk, and 16% minimal risk.
- In 2020, PATTERN found that about half of federal prisoners age 24 or younger (51%) and those ages 25 to 34 (50%) were at high risk of future recidivism.
- Fifty-one percent of black prisoners (including those of both Hispanic and non-Hispanic ethnicity) in federal prison were deemed at high risk for future recidivism by the PATTERN tool, followed by more than 42% of American Indian or Alaska Native prisoners.
- In 2020, the BOP identified more than 75 evidence-based recidivism reduction programs (EBRRs) and productive activities (PAs) that persons in federal prison could access for various needs, including antisocial behavior, anger management, substance abuse, parenting skills, and dyslexia (table 11).
- EBRR and PA enrollment and completion counts during 2020 are available by facility, program, and risk level in table 12 (available for download on the BJS website).

Note: This table responds to P.L. 115-391 Section 610, Item 16, which requests information on the recidivism reduction partnerships active at the Federal Bureau of Prisons (BOP) in 2020. Per 18 U.S.C. § 3621(h)(5), the warden of each BOP facility should, subject to availability of appropriations, enter into partnerships with nonprofit, private, and industry-sponsored organizations and institutions of higher education that lead to a reduction in recidivism. The facility abbreviations are: ADX—administrative maximum. FCC—federal correctional complex. FCI—federal correctional institution. FDC—federal detention center. FMC—federal medical center. FPC—federal prison camp. FTC—federal transfer center. MCC—metropolitan correctional center. MCFP—medical center for federal prisoners. MDC—metropolitan detention center. USP—United States penitentiary.

Note: This table responds to P.L. 115-391 Section 610, Item 26, which requested a breakdown of persons in federal prison by risk levels and demographic and sentence characteristics. Recidivism risk assessment scores were assigned to persons using the Prisoner Assessment Tool Targeting Estimated Risk and Needs (PATTERN), which the Federal Bureau of Prisons (BOP) developed using an approved list of evidence-based recidivism reduction programs and productive activities. PATTERN was finalized in January 2020. Future recidivism is defined as a return to BOP custody or rearrest within 3 years, excluding all traffic offenses except DUI/DWI. Because PATTERN scores were assigned for the first time in 2020, these data were unavailable in previous reports in the Federal Prisoner Statistics Collected under the First Step Act series. PATTERN assessments are sex-specific, and thresholds for the risk levels differ for violent and nonviolent offenders. See the BOP website (<https://www.bop.gov/inmates/fsa/pattern.jsp>) for details on PATTERN. See the National Institute of Justice website for validation of the tool (<https://www.ojp.gov/pdffiles1/nij/256084.pdf>).

^aAnother 13,391 persons in BOP custody did not have a PATTERN risk level because they were in pretrial detention, had not been in BOP custody for a sufficient time to receive a PATTERN assessment, or had legal conditions in which PATTERN would not apply.

^bIncludes both Hispanic and non-Hispanic prisoners. The BOP does not track persons of two or more or other races.

Note: This table responds to P.L. 115-391 Section 610, Item 23, which requested the capacity of each approved evidence-based recidivism reduction program (EBRR) and productive activity (PA) available to persons held in Federal Bureau of Prisons (BOP) facilities. Includes EBRRs and PAs that the BOP accepted to yield First Step Act good time credits. Includes 122 facilities operated by the BOP during 2020. Excludes privately operated federal correctional facilities. Program availability does not imply program participation. Details on each program can be found in the First Step Act Approved Programs Guide (https://www.bop.gov/inmates/fsa/docs/2021_fsa_program_guide.pdf).

*Offered in facilities that housed only females. In 2020, the BOP operated 29 such facilities.

Methodology

Data collection and reporting

The Office of Research and Evaluation in the Federal Bureau of Prisons (BOP) compiled data under the First Step Act of 2018 (FSA; P.L. 115-391) for calendar year (CY) 2020 and provided them to the Bureau of Justice Statistics (BJS) in 2021. Additionally, the FSA required the BOP to develop, test, and implement a risk and needs assessment tool specific to the federal prison population. The BOP worked to approve evidence-based recidivism reduction programs (EBRRs) and productive activities (PAs) that would meet the needs of persons in prison, as identified by the new federal risk and needs assessment tool. This work was undertaken during CY 2019 to meet the January 2020 statutory deadline.

BJS supplemented BOP data with data from its 2016 Survey of Prison Inmates and National Prisoner Statistics program's Summary of Sentenced Population Movement (NPS-1B). Unless otherwise noted, all counts in this report include persons held in federal correctional facilities that were operated by the BOP or in privately operated facilities under a BOP contract.

Terms and definitions

Administrative maximum (ADX)—A type of segregated housing unit designed for occupancy by a single person. The BOP operates one facility with ADX units: the United States Penitentiary-Administrative Maximum in Florence, Colorado, which houses the most disruptive and escape-prone persons in BOP custody.

Challenge Program (CH)—A BOP drug treatment program that is designed for high security prisoners. It includes violence prevention components and a protocol to allow persons in prison with severe mental illness to develop everyday life skills, such as medication management. CH does not include an early release incentive. However, a person who successfully completes the program could earn a decrease in their security level and a transfer to a medium security facility, where the person can be admitted to the BOP's Residential Drug Abuse Program.

Level I volunteers—Volunteers authorized to perform a service for 4 days or less per year in a BOP facility or administrative office. Level I volunteers receive general training but not a badge for the facility where they volunteer.

Level II volunteers—Volunteers authorized to perform a service for 5 days or more per year in a BOP facility or administrative office. Level II volunteers must attend volunteer or mentor training and receive a badge for the facility where they volunteer.

Medication-assisted treatment (MAT)—Treatment of a substance use disorder by a licensed physician who administers or prescribes medication that is approved by the U.S. Food and Drug Administration (FDA), in combination with counseling and behavioral therapies. The three medications approved by the FDA and recognized by the BOP are methadone, buprenorphine, and naltrexone.

Nonresidential Drug Abuse Program (DAP)—A BOP drug treatment program available to all federal prisoners at every public and private correctional institution. While DAP does not include an early release incentive, facility wardens are encouraged to allow persons who satisfactorily complete the program to be placed in residential reentry centers for the maximum time allowable. In 2020, the majority of persons who participated in DAP were within 2 years of their release date.

Prisoner Assessment Tool Targeting Estimated Risk and Needs (PATTERN)—An analysis tool for calculating the risk of a person currently in prison of recidivating in the future. The BOP finalized the tool in January 2020. PATTERN relies on sex-specific forms to score each prisoner on their education level, criminal history, and participation in approved EBRRs and PAs, as well as reports of serious incidents, escapes, or violence while in custody. Violent offenders are scored on a different scale from nonviolent offenders. Details on PATTERN, including scoring sheets, are on the BOP website (<https://www.bop.gov/inmates/fsa/pattern.jsp>). Future recidivism is defined as a return to BOP custody or rearrest within 3 years, excluding all traffic offenses except DUI/DWI. Based on the summed score, persons in federal prison are classified by their risk of future reimprisonment in the federal prison system. The following risk percentages, representing the likelihood of a prisoner at each risk level of recidivating, were taken from the First Step Act Implementation Fiscal Year 2020 90-Day Report (NCJ 254799, DOJ, June 2020):

- Minimum risk
 - malingering
 - Nonviolent offenders: males 10%, females 10%
 - Violent offenders: males 1%, females 1%
- Low risk
 - Nonviolent offenders: males 31%, females 34%
 - Violent offenders: males 9%, females 7%
- Medium risk
 - Nonviolent offenders: males 54%, females 58%
 - Violent offenders: males 21%, females 23%
- High risk
 - Nonviolent offenders: males 75%, females 75%
 - Violent offenders: males 31%, females 31%.

Residential Drug Abuse Program (RDAP)—A BOP drug treatment program available to persons in prison who have been diagnosed with a substance use disorder and who volunteer to participate. RDAP separates participants from the general prison population to live in an isolated unit that removes them from negative peer pressure. Successful completion of RDAP can yield incentives for participants, including early release if they are eligible. RDAP is intended to be delivered during the last 28 months of the prisoner’s sentence, with the final part of RDAP being the Community Treatment Services Program.

Special housing unit (SHU)—A segregated housing unit in a BOP-operated facility where prisoners are separated from the general prison population. Privately operated facilities do not have SHUs. Persons held in the SHU may be housed alone or with other persons. The SHU ensures the safety, security, and orderly operation of correctional facilities and the protection of the public by providing alternative housing assignments for persons removed from the general prison population.⁵

⁵For more information on SHUs, see <https://www.bop.gov/policy/progstat/5270.11.pdf>.

Special management unit (SMU)—A segregated housing unit in a BOP-operated facility that holds any sentenced person whose interaction requires greater management to ensure the safety, security, or orderly operation of BOP facilities or the protection of the public. Each SMU has three program levels that differ by the conditions of confinement and the expected time frame to complete the program. Typically, persons in prison complete the entire SMU program in about 12 months, after which they are placed in the general prison population at another facility.

- SMU level 1—Persons have limited interaction and are normally restricted to their assigned cells.
- SMU level 2—Persons have greater interaction than in level 1. They are normally restricted to their assigned cells but participate in more out-of-cell activities and programming on a case-by-case basis.
- SMU level 3—Persons interact in a supervised, open setting.

The Bureau of Justice Statistics of the U.S. Department of Justice is the principal federal agency responsible for measuring crime, criminal victimization, criminal offenders, victims of crime, correlates of crime, and the operation of criminal and civil justice systems at the federal, state, tribal, and local levels. BJS collects, analyzes, and disseminates reliable statistics on crime and justice systems in the United States, supports improvements to state and local criminal justice information systems, and participates with national and international organizations to develop and recommend national standards for justice statistics.
